FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q  My event has audio visual needs; do you have staff that can assist with that?
A  The Ohio State University Wooster Campus Conference Center does not have IT staff in our building(s). We will provide A/V equipment but are not responsible for the proper operation of the equipment in conjunction of client laptop equipment. Should A/V be a crucial part of your meeting, we do recommend having an Ohio State IT professional at your meeting. With notice, we can make prior arrangements for an IT professional to be present for an additional fee of $65.00 per hour.

Shisler, Fisher Auditorium, and Secrest Welcome and Education Center are equipped with state-of-the-art A/V, Solstice wireless connection, and ZOOM meeting technology in our ballroom and other spaces on campus. Miller Pavilion is equipped with a mounted rear projector. If you are at any historic home or Secrest location, you must make sure you provide a laptop for the event.

Due to the complexity of A/V equipment in the Arden Ballroom or Fisher Auditorium, a mandatory fee of $65.00 per hour will be assessed for an Ohio State professional to operate and troubleshoot equipment during your event, while in use. A three (3) hour minimum will apply to any events on Saturday, Sunday, or university holidays.

Q  Can I use the space for setup and decorating the night before my event?
A  The Friday buy-out rate is $3,000.00. The space can be used for rehearsal dinner if purchased.

Q  How much time do I have to clean up after my event?
A  The rental end time specified on your service agreement denotes the time you must vacate the building. We recommend ending your event 20–30 minutes before the rental end time to allow for vendors and guests to exit the building. All items you have brought into the building must be removed upon completion of your event.

Q  Do you have a designated smoking area?
A  Ohio State has adopted a tobacco free policy that supports a healthy environment for all members of the Buckeye Nation. Effective January 1, 2014, the use of all types of tobacco products is prohibited in all university buildings and on all university-owned properties, including parking lots, garages, and all outside areas.

Q  Are there any decorations or items you do not allow?
A  The throwing of rice, confetti, artificial flower petals, glitter, and popcorn, are not permitted on Ohio State grounds. In addition, sparklers, fireworks, and any other flammable items are not permitted. No materials may be hung without the prior consent of your Sales Manager and once approved, items must be hung using gaffers tape.

Can I bring in my drone?
No. The College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences Wooster campus is a no-fly zone by the Federal Aviation Administration. Use of drones on our campus will result in federal prosecution.

Can I bring in my own caterer?
At the Shisler and Fisher buildings, we require that you work with a licensed and insured catering company. Any event at the Secrest Welcome and Education Center must use Buehler’s Catering. Our skilled managers will work directly with the caterers to ensure your menu exceeds your expectations. Events in those spaces who work directly with a catering company will be subject to a $500.00 fee. Pavilion events and events in the Historic Homes do not have catering restrictions.

Do you have Wi-Fi throughout the buildings?
We have Wi-Fi throughout the Fisher Auditorium and Shisler Conference Center. Arboretum events and Stone House events will require client provided use of personal data and hotspots.

What is the 20% Administration Fee?
Administration fee covers the staffing needed to produce your event and is not paid to the staff. Additional staffing fees may be needed to cover your event needs.

Can the stage in the Ballroom be moved for my event?
With at least 24 hours’ notice the stage in the Ballroom can be moved for an additional fee of $200.00. If you would like the stage completely removed from the room, there is a fee of $500.00.

If I rent the Secrest Arboretum, will I be the only one able to access the space?
The Secrest Arboretum gardens are open to the general public year-round. While you have reserved the space for your function, we cannot guarantee that there will not be Arboretum visitors viewing the gardens during your event.
The cost for the ballroom on a Friday or Saturday evening is $3,000.00* and includes the following:

- Use of our 26”–72” round tables with cotton linen toppers (85”x85”) in a variety of colors, and 300 cotton napkins in a variety of colors.

- Use of our ballroom chairs.

- Use of our six modern butcher block tables for buffets, bars, desserts, or appetizers.

- Use of our 8’ by 24’ stage for either a live band, DJ, or your head table.

- Access to the space as of 10:00 a.m. for setup (ask about our Friday evening option).

- A night’s stay in our historic on campus Stone House for the newlywed couple only.

- Ability to work directly with the licensed catering company of your choice, with no additional fee.

BOOTS & STILETTOs:
What I’ve Learned About Taking Leadership One Step at a Time

Kim Sayers

Have you ever stepped into a new role and felt like you were just dropped in the middle of a desert without a GPS? Or maybe it feels like your colleagues and customers are all from Neptune? In this session, Kim Sayers shares personal stories of growing into leadership roles one step at a time. Learn how she came to make a priority of putting her boots on and doing the work of building a business unit from the ground-up. It takes balanced footwork to earn trust and build respect, which Kim quickly discovered when she was a young professional walking into male-dominated circles. In addition to her personal experiences, you will learn how seeking help, checking your attitude, moving past a victim mindset, and walking with diplomacy play critical roles in growing as a leader and building successful professional relationships.

What Does it Take to Impress an Employer? Personal Traits, Skills and Characteristics Most-desired among Today’s Leaders

Kim Sayers

Kim asked business and organization leaders across industries what they value most among the people who work in their organizations. The responses tell a strong, but probably not surprising story about the significance of what she calls the important skills. In this session, you will hear what Kim learned about attitude and getting out of the victim mindset (she’ll even share one of her most embarrassing stories about having a bad attitude and victim mindset), you will learn how accountability and finding common ground with others in your organization can have a big impact on your professional relationships, you will also identify some of your own barriers to listening and explore how best to deliver varying types of messages. (Should you really send your boss that text message?)

Master your Focus, Maximize your Time

Kim Sayers

How is it that Lynn can be the first to arrive at every meeting and event, read two books each month, chair a volunteer committee, check-off all the items on his/her daily to-do list, submit that proposal two weeks early, and make it to every soccer and hockey game of the season when most days you struggle to get through your email?

Truth is we all have the same number of hours in every day. How we prioritize and focus makes the difference in how we utilize time. This interactive session will address the challenges of managing time and prioritizing for efficiency and effectiveness. You will analyze how much time is truly available to you, consider how it can best be used, share tips and tricks for better time management and, if time permits, discuss how to deal with those inevitable dangerous distractions.

Conflicts Resolution—
Dealing with Difficult People
Melanie Garcia
Learn to reframe your view of workplace conflict and “difficult people” (or, more accurately, behaviors) to reduce stress, enhance productivity, and foster success. In this interactive workshop, you’ll learn to see both people and conflict in new ways, and develop a solid procedure for courageously addressing them in both your personal and professional lives.

Teach a Manager to Coach...and Watch the GROWTH: Three Lessons from an Executive Coach
Melanie Garcia
What has Google learned about coaching and how can you apply it to your company? In this session, you will discover why managers must learn to coach, practice a model for coaching conversations, and experience a personal coaching exercise.

Leadership is an Attitude—
How to Lead When You Aren’t Officially the Leader
Melanie Garcia
In this action-packed session, you will add some new tools to your toolbox to develop yourself as a leader, regardless of your job title, such as: taking calculated risks, acknowledging others, taking initiative, projecting optimism, thinking outside the hierarchy, and more.
